AI POV

JUAN TUBERT
CTO, TOMBRAS

Juan joined Tombras in 2022 as its first Chief Technology Officer after 17 years at R/GA, where he led U.S. tech teams and helped build global practices across Argentina, San Francisco, and New York.

Key Takeaways

- Human communication is key
- Play with everything but only use a few!
- Siloed AI doesn't transform organizations
- We learned so much in the process

Learnings

- Constantly reassess build vs. buy
- It's about outputs and outcomes, not the agents themselves
- Intent now has to flow stakeholder → engineering → agent
- Subtle architecture choices have outsized impact (sub-agent vs. agent-as-tool)
- AI brought teams closer, GenAI amplifies human creativity, not replaces it
- Rich data (public + proprietary) is the foundation of quality outputs
- Human oversight and iteration are non-negotiable at AI's speed and volume
- AI accelerates ideation; humans curate for tone, accuracy, and taste
- Invest in internal AI capabilities, value comes from knowing where to apply it
